Trade Sense Investing Strategy

The core of Trade Sense Ltd financial markets trading strategy is build around the principles of Supply and Demand. Supply and Demand are the only true laws which govern the movement of prices in any market around the world. Prices move when Supply and Demand are out of balance. This imbalance gives us a clue of further price movement in the market. Trade Sense objectively identify what this picture of Supply and Demand looks like on a chart and then use this information to place the trades for the future.

We will be using a MAM System

MAM stands for Multi Account Manager. This unique kind of trading setup allows investors to allocate funds to a qualified trader or money manager of their choice who in turn manages these pooled funds across multiple trading accounts. The money manager will receive a performance fee for this service which is a set percentage calculated on the trading gains. The remaining profit is distributed back to the investors according to the percentage allocation they each have in the total pool of funds.

PAST PERFORMANCE IS NO GUARANTEE OF FUTURE RESULTS. PRICES CAN GO DOWN AS WELL AS UP. THERE IS A SIGNIFICANT RISK INVOLVED IN TRADING. CONDITIONS CAN VARY, AND THEREFORE INFLUENCE PERFORMANCE.

Hypothetical Disclaimer: Hypothetical performance results have many inherent limitations, some of which are described below. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between hypothetical performance results and the actual results subsequently achieved by any particular trading strategy. One of the limitations of hypothetical performance results is that they are generally prepared with the benefit of hindsight. In addition, hypothetical trading does not involve financial risk, and no hypothetical trading record can completely account for the impact of financial risk in actual trading. For example, the ability to withstand losses or to adhere to a particular trading strategy in spite of trading losses are material points which can also adversely affect actual trading results. There are numerous other factors related to the markets in general or to the implementation of any specific trading strategy which cannot be fully accounted for in the preparation of hypothetical performance results and all of which can adversely affect actual trading results.

Trade Sense Ltd strongly suggests that you undertake independent due diligence and consultation with a professional forex broker or competent financial adviser regulated by the capital markets authority.
